Dear Students,

The worsening health situation has imposed a new national lockdown from October 30 to December 1, 2020. We will continue to carry out our missions of research, teaching and student support. In application of the main measures stated in the ministerial circular dated October 30, and the decisions taken by the TSM advisory committee on Wednesday, November 4, 2020, our working methods are as follows:

Pedagogy

- All courses for full-time students, work-study students and executive education trainees will be delivered remotely;
- Continuous assessment will be organised remotely until the end of the first semester;
- In order to avoid uncertainties related to the evolution of the health situation, the first semester exams will be organised remotely.

Warmly,

Hervé Penan
